

Red Panda Ranger Program

What is a Red Panda Ranger?

Red Panda Ranger is a special title given to children who help spread the word about red pandas. To become a Red Panda Ranger, climb the five mountains by completing the challenges assigned to each mountain.

Mt. Cho Oyu

Fill out the red panda questionnaire found on the kids page of our website: www.redpandanetwork.org/forkids

Mt. Makalu

Draw a picture of the best place for a red panda to live.

Mt. Lhotse

Find 5 websites with information about red pandas. On a sheet of paper, tell us the name of the website, the website's address, and what you found on the website.

Mt. Kanchenjunga

Tell us where the five mountains you are climbing are found. Why do you think we used these mountains in the Red Panda Ranger program?

Mt. Sagarmatha

Talk to 10 people about red pandas. Have them sign the sponsor form from our website certifying that you talked to them.

Once you've climbed one or more mountains, send your work to:

The Red Panda Network
PO Box 390454
Mountain View, CA 94039

For each mountain you climb you will receive a Red Panda Ranger Badge. Once you've climbed all five mountains, we'll send you an official Red Panda Ranger Certificate. We will also put your artwork up on our website, and share it with students in India and Nepal.
